¶ Much credit is due the members of the Truckee Outing Club who so successfully sponsored and handled the sanctioned ski meet here over the week end. The affair went off in fine style with participants well pleased with the program and facilities available. Even the weather, which was sufficiently threatening on Sunday morning to create a mild panic among the handlers, turned out nicely and on a whole the meet was a complete success. The up-ski operated without a hitch and carried the scores of skiers to the top of Pinacle Point for the race down. Officials, skiers and sponsors are to be highly praised for their efforts.

¶ Hopes that Hobart Mills, idle since it was abandoned by the Hobart Estate Lumber Company after lumbering operations ceased in this locality, may be revived to become an army cantonment were raised this week with an announcement that officers of the Ninth Corps Area are giving serious consideration to the project. The town has been kept intact insofar as plumbing, lighting and other necessary facilities are concerned and its locations, in the estimation of those behind the plan, cannot be beat. Ski training, one of the prime objects, could be accomplished on the plains and slopes adjacent to the town all winter, while summer maneuvers could be handled on the wide terrain. Airplane and rail facilities are available and quarters are established for nearly 2000 officers and men.

¶ If you think advertising is not the life of business, listen to the fellow who does the least and you will hear him cry the loudest about dull times. This applies not alone to individual businesses but to communities as well. Unless we continually point out and consistently advertise the benefits offered by our great recreational region the world will soon forget us and we will have nothing to advertise. Let's keep forever boosting. You will be surprised at the good results.

¶ The Meeks Bay H and W Club is sponsoring a box supper and public program for next Monday. Unless you have attended one of the fun fests arranged by this up and coming organization, you can't imagine the pleasure to be enjoyed. You can't go wrong by attending the affair Monday evening.

VARIETY PROGRAM IS FEATURED AT LOCAL THEATER THIS WEEK

A classic western hero will be the theme of United Artist's stellar production, Kit Carson, showing on the shadow stage of the Donner Theater on Saturday night. The stars of the film are Jon Hall and Lynn Bari.

Together for the first time in their careers, Peter Lorre, Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi comprise the triple threat menace of Kay Kyser's new melody-rama, You'll Find Out. Dennis O'Keefe and Helen Parrish have the romantic leads in this RKO Radio mystery musical showing here on Sunday night.

One of the biggest and best productions to hit the flicker since D. W. Griffith's Birth of a Nation is 20th Century-Fox's Hudson's Bay. Keeping with the magnitude of the subject, the largest actor in the film business, Laird Cregar, is one of the principal players. The star of the show is the periodic Oscar winner Paul Muni, with Gene Tierney and John Sutton supplying the love interest. The picture will play the local theater on Wednesday night.

Verna Pearson Wins At School Ski Meet at Tahoe

Verna Pearson of Meadow Lake Union High School of Truckee won women's downhill race at the interscholastic ski meet at Tahoe on last Saturday.

A more complete report of the meet will be found on page three of this week's Sierra Sun.

Junior Church League Has Valentine Party

The Junior League of the Community Methodist Church and the junior boys and girls classes of the Sunday school enjoyed a Valentine party at the church Wednesday evening.

Friday evening the Young Peoples' League and the young peoples' class will hold their bi-weekly social at the church.

Lumber Town May Become An Army Cantonment Soon

BULLETIN

Harry Landsberg told members of the Truckee Lions Club last night that he had received word from his brother, Joseph Landsberg, to the effect that a recommendation that Hobart Mills be accepted as an army post had been dispatched to Washington, D. C., by the commanding officers of the Ninth Corps Area. The Lions pledged their support to the project and the directors framed telegrams urging acceptance of the site. The meeting was held at Besio's Restaurant.

The army is seriously considering the location of a cantonment at Hobart Mills, according to a report from Harry Landsberg, who with his brother, Joseph Landsberg, purchased the property four years ago after the Hobart Lumber Company ceased operations in the district.

Under the proposed arrangements, the army would lease the property, including the many improvements particularly adapted to the required needs.

It is pointed out in the plans between the Landsbergs and officers of the Ninth Corps Area headquarters at San Francisco, that the site is ideal for training ski troops, as proposed under recent orders.

Housing facilities are available for more than 2000 officers and men. Water, electricity, sewers and even steam heat plants are installed in the town. All the well-built structures, erected to withstand the rigors of winter and at the same time provide comfort for the occupants, have been left standing and have been kept in repair, offering suitable quarters for scores of officers and their families.

Twenty-seven barracks were erected last year by the CCC and would make good quarters for the necessary troops. There is a mess hall, well equipped with a 30-foot range, ovens and other facilities, capable of accommodating the entire 2000 men. The hospital is equipped and even has an x-ray machine. The rooms there as well as in the hotel and annex are steam heated and all the buildings have modern plumbing, lighting and adequate heating.

From a standpoint of location, Hobart Mills forms an ideal spot it was pointed out. On a main traveled highway connected all year with U.S. 40, the main line of the Southern Pacific and only a short distance

Southern Pacific Shop Workers Put on 6-Day Week in Defense Work

To keep ahead of the growing transportation needs of the national defense program, Southern Pacific has established a six-day week in all its locomotive, freight and passenger car repair shops, it was announced today by J. H. Dyer, vice president in charge of operations for the railroad.

The move, which became effective February 1, will further speed the company's program of getting additional new and modernized freight and passenger equipment quickly into service, Dyer said.

Nearly 13,000 employees of the mechanical forces, including about 500 shop workers back on the payrolls, will benefit by the extra day's work, the official said.

Two Sought As Attempts Made To Wreck Train

Cars Stopped Here During Search For Two Saboteurs

DAMAGE IS DETECTED

Rail Loosened Near Towle Discovered By R.R. Employee

BULLETIN

According to reliable reports, the Southern Pacific is offering a $5,000 reward for the apprehension of the person or persons who tampered with its main line track near Towle Saturday.

All cars and trucks passing through Truckee Saturday were stopped while special officers from the Southern Pacific Company and Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley questioned occupants in an effort to gain trace of two men believed responsible for an attempt to wreck a Southern Pacific train near Towle early that day.

According to information reaching here, all but four spikes had been removed from a 24-foot rail on the north side of the track, one hundred yards west of the Towle overpass. The angle iron had been removed from the outside of the rail and only one bolt was left holding the iron on the inside rail.

Don Sabalza, Alta trackwalker, discovered the damage and is credited with averting what may have proved to be a serious train wreck. The railroad bank is about 40 feet high at the point which is beside a gully.

Footprints indicated that two men worked together in the sabotage attempt, although officers thought the prints may have been made by shoes placed temporarily over the other shoes to mislead the officials.

The mischief was discovered shortly after 9 o'clock in the morning. A freight train had just passed the spot a short time before, but whether the track was in the bad condition before or after is unknown. It may have been, officers said, that the two saboteurs were frightened away by the track walker.

The damage was repaired immediately and service was not interfered with by the action.

Relief Trends in Nevada County Are Studied By State Taxpayers Group

In Nevada county, the four kinds of relief administered by county welfare agencies showed the following trends in 1940, January and November case loads compared:

County indigent aid, down from 81 in January to 78 in November; persons receiving aged aid up from 435 in January to 487 in November; persons receiving aid to the needy blind, 18 in January and 20 in November; children receiving orphan aid, 148 in January and 157 in November.

These facts are brought out in a study of county-administered relief just made public by California Taxpayers' association.

Deer Herds of California Are Wintering Well Says Conservation Group Head

SACRAMENTO —(UP)—California deer herds have come through the first part of the winter in unusually good condition, J. S. Hunter, chief of the state bureau of game conservation reported this week.

Snowfall has not been excessive in the mountains, he said, and the weather has been relatively moderate.

An investigation of reports on sick and dead deer in Modoc county showed the trouble is being caused by an excessive amount of parasites, particularly nose bots and lung worms.

Hunter attributed the low Mariposa county kill during the deer season in 1940 to the mild winter last year which allowed deer to remain at higher elevations.

"During the 1939 season" he said, "severe storms virtually drove the deer into the arms of Mariposa hunters."

The kill was considerably below the 1939 total in San Bernardino and Inyo counties as well.

Skiers Qualify For State Meet on Local Courses

By capturing second place in both downhill and slalom events, Graham Zink of the Sugar Bowl Ski Club won the combined award at the Truckee Outing Club's sanctioned ski meet last week-end.

The outstanding performance of the two-day class B downhill and slalom qualifying was made by Walter Mandeville of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club in winning the downhill event on Saturday. Arriving late at the meet, Mandeville went to the top of the course and ran it immediately with a trial run. On his first run he covered the course in one minute and three seconds to edge out Zink and Eric Johnson of the Oakland Ski Club. After Zink and Johnson had completed the second run in a fraction of a second over a minute, the Tahoe ace ran the course in 59 seconds flat. He placed third in slalom to take second in combined events.

The winner of the slalom event was Duane Ramsey of Reno, who placed fourth in combined, due to a 13th place in downhill. Third place in the combined events was won by Angelo Besio, Truckee Outing Club star skier, who took fifth in both events.

Beside Besio, Truckee placed two others in the first 15 places. They were Frank Titus and Jack Sanders. Also qualifying for the state championship at Yosemite on March 8 and 9 from Truckee were Robert Bowers, "Bud" Owens and Tony Besio. Mandeville was the only Tahoe skier to qualify.

The Reno Ski Club swept the women's events, winning the first four places. Betty Scruggins, by virtue of a first and third place, was first in combined. Jerry Brown, Alice Hardy and Colleen Brown, all of the Reno club followed the leader in that order. Tora Anderson of the Oakland club was fifth in the women's combined.

Ideal skiing conditions prevailed on the first day of the meet, with a light powder snow covering a hard crust. On Sunday morning rain fell, leaving the snow heavy and wet and putting the contestants' wax knowledge to a real test.

Much credit for the success of the meet is due to Robert Seibold and Bob Bowers, the tournament directors. James Thomas was chief starter and C. Edmunds head timer. Others assisting in running the meet were C. J. Bowers, Gene Barton, A. M. Anderson, Carl Wheat, Tina Gini, F. W. Gaiennie and Doug Barrett.

Jim Scruggins, University of Nevada ski coach, laid out the slalom course.

There were about 70 skiers in the first event, while a total of 46 completed both events. The Outing Club sponsored a juke box dance in the Masonic Hall Saturday night for the visitors.

Mrs. Gaiennie Placed in Charge of Club Library

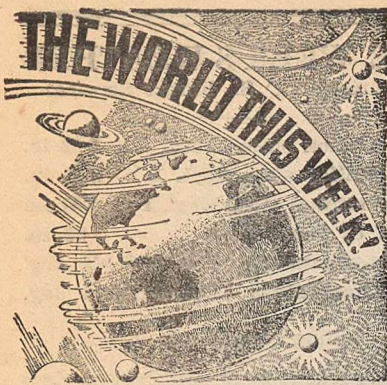

Mrs. Laura Gaiennie was appointed as librarian for the Wyethia Women's Club at the meeting held last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Gaiennie says, any books to be donated to the club library will be picked up by her.

The club's first annual men's night program will be held on Saturday night. Mrs. Vivian Gregory, publicity director, said that a capacity crowd is expected to attend the affair.

The next meeting of the women's civic group will be held at 8 p. m. next Thursday night.

PETAIN FIGHTS FOR FRANCE

The shrewd and venerable Marshal Petain faces a task no man can envy. The hero of Verdun must again seek to forestall the total conquest of his defeated land and salvage for his country a few remnants of sovereignty. Whether he submits to the demands of the Germans or stubbornly refuses, in either event France faces the possibility of further war. Submission means the yielding up of the French fleet and of vital African bases to the Axis, the taking up of arms against Britain, her former ally. Refusal to submit means, if German threats are carried out, a renewal of the war of destruction against France. Marshal Petain's hand is by no means a weak one in this game where the independence of a nation is at stake. His bargaining power is 100 warships, valuable naval bases in the Mediterranean, the army of General Weygand, 450,000 strong. But Germany's hand is also formidable. Its strength lies in the threat of renewing war on France, in possession of 2,000,000 French prisoners of war, in its power

FASCISTS TO THE FRONT

As Italy's forces retreat in Albania and Africa, so do the Fascist officials advance to the front. More than 43 such party chieftains and members of Il Duce's cabinet have just departed from Rome to the fighting lines. It is not giving imagination too much rein to picture endless violent disputes between Il Duce and his advisers, and among the advisers themselves, over the ill-fated wars Italy is now waging—or retreating from. In time of adversity, blame is hurriedly passed from shoulder to shoulder amid a jangling chorus of "Don't blame me. He did it," "I told you so. I was against it from the start," "It wasn't my fault. Someone misinformed me." If Il Duce, as is likely, has listened night after night to such wrangling at party conclaves, is it any wonder he has dispatched a number of government officials to the front, probably adding, "All right, war experts, if you know so much about running a war, get out and fight one."

HCL ON LEASH

Hold your breath! For some seven months new defense millions have been rolling into wage-earners' pockets the country over, but there's no high cost of living problem yet. It is reliably estimated that the average worker's monthly income is now $7 higher than a year ago, yet total living costs are the same as twelve months ago and even lower than they were last summer. This is the most comfortable margin Mr. Consumer has had between his paycheck and living costs in at least eight years. For this good fortune the public, in the opinion of the National Defense Commission, can thank the nation's independent and chain retailers. The consumer division of that commission has singled out for special praise the wholly voluntary efforts of this group to prevent unjustified rises in retail prices since the outbreak of war. It is that type of marketing that the National Defense Commission urges as one of the surest means of protecting living standards. Thus far, those standards have not been threatened thanks, in large measure, to retailers' efforts in keeping the lid clamped tight on HCL.

ANNAPOLIS FOR CALIFORNIA

A proposal for an Annapolis of the West, launched in Congress, has encountered stormy weather from the direction of Maryland. Yet if there is urgent need of an enlarged program for the training of navy officers, the West Coast is in a logical position to answer a nation's demand for two naval academies for a two-ocean Navy.

To the owners of America's 50 million radio sets, the filing of monopoly charges against ASCAP—the American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers—still leaves a big question still in doubt. When will Jeanie's hair stop getting in the listeners' ears? In a world of change, constancy is often a virtue. But the radio listener, twirling the dial in vain, is going to conclude constancy can be carried too far when, be it at dawn or midnight, he is ever meeting Jeanie with the well known hair.

THE RAILROADS AS TAXPAYERS

There was some extremely significant news for the taxpayers in a recent Railway Age survey of the railroads' contribution to our governmental treasuries.

Last year railroad taxes, it is estimated, reached an all-time high of slightly over $400,000,000. This is the first time that railway tax payments have passed that mark—the previous peak, reached in 1929, was $397,000,000.

In the light of earnings, the railroads are among the heaviest taxed industries. For instance, railroad operating revenues in 1940 were one-third below 1929; net earnings before fixed charges were almost one-half less, and net income after fixed charges was about five-sixths less. Yet the railroads "came through" with more money for the tax collector, but less for the investor, than in famous boom year.

The railroads aren't complaining about their tax burdens—though disinterested economists have pointed out that if taxation of the lines is carried to too great an extreme, impairment of their standards of service must inevitably result. The railroads are simply doing the best they can under extremely difficult conditions. And that best is extraordinarily good indeed. No American industry is better prepared to meet the unusual needs of this time. There will be no breakdown in transportation in this country—and you can thank the railroads for that.

Today more than ever before taxpayers should be interested in public policies that enable private enterprise to make and pay taxes, for the individual will have to make up any falling off in industrial taxes.

HISTORY OF LIBERTY

"Liberty has never come from government. Liberty has always come from the subjects of it. The history of liberty is a history of resistance. The history of liberty is a history of limitations of government power, not the increase of it." —President Woodrow Wilson.

MAKE READY FOR '49

The West, which has long been the mecca for tourists from all over the world, is determined to keep itself right up in the forefront of vacationers' thoughts for a long time to come.

A council of eleven western states, undaunted by an uncertain future, has laid the groundwork for an eight-year campaign to bring American tourists west a campaign culminating in the centennial celebration of the Golden Days of '49—when the greatest westward stampede of all times began.

Meanwhile, the council properly calls attention to the need of preserving historic spots and landmarks which, through lack of foresight, have been allowed to fall into disrepair, and the equally important need of preserving and encouraging those typically Western celebrations, the fiesta and rodeo.

In these landmarks of California's flamboyant and picturesque past, in the festivities and pageants commemorating the life of the state in the time of the Dons, California has an enviable treasure chest—a heritage from the past and a source of the romance which has yearly beckoned millions of tourists from other states.

With an eight-year head start on plans for a super-centennial celebration in '49—not to mention a program for each of the intervening years—the states of the West are giving proof to their determination that the days of '49 in this century shall fully equal in popularity the days of '49 in the last.

CUPID BLITZKRIEGS RENO

It's becoming so that a tourist hardly dares whisper that he's going to visit Reno—for fear the neighbors'll infer that a divorce is in the offing. Fact is, though, there were 18,913 marriage licenses issued in Reno last year, as against but 2314 divorces! We're not press-agenting Reno as a new Gretna Green. It's far from it. But it always makes the world seem a bit more normal, a bit happier, to learn that love has gained on hate somewhere, that harmony is out in front of discord. It's nice to know that the little guy with the bow and arrow has blitzkrieged Reno.

by Don Wiley
MEMBER, AVIATION WRITERS ASSN

We've all read a great deal lately about the British drive against Fascist strongholds in Libya. But very little has been said about the gallant part being played by the Royal Air Force.

It is probable that aerial warfare has never been carried on under more difficult conditions. And certainly the Libyan push has brought together the greatest air strength ever assembled in the desert country. (In World War No. 1, the British used airplanes in the Far East and the RAF ships did stout work in strafing the retreating Turks in the latter days of the conflict, but compared with the present operations, those aerial efforts were puny).

MANY HAZARDS

Hazards and hardships, always present in that desert country, are multiplied for the airmen. Even a 10-mile-per-hour wind will create dust clouds that obscure the ground. Stronger winds will send these clouds swirling 10,000 to 20,000 feet in the air. Desert pilots say these dust clouds are tougher than the worst fogs found in more temperate climates.

Dust is the constant enemy. It seeps into everything, including the crankcases of engines and, mixing itself with the oil, forms a highly abrasive paste. All aircraft have to be equipped with filters over the engine air intakes but even then the need for engine maintenance and replacement is increased many fold.

VALOR CITED

Yet under these trying and dangerous circumstances, the RAF has carried on with tremendous valor and success, according to information from neutral observers.

The British attack on Sidi Barrani furnishes an example. Sidi Barani was very strongly held, the entire area bristling with gun emplacements, concrete outposts, wire and tank traps.

Yet, according to the British, it took the RAF just six days to smash these defenses and open the way for General Wavell's army of the Nile. In less than a week, the RAF made 300 sorties. In one day 19 enemy companies were attacked with bombs and machine guns in 56 separate raids.

BOMBING RAIDS

At Sofafi, the RAF claims to have trapped a concentration of 1500 Italian motor trucks and bombed them into twisted wreckage.

And during the six days the British insist they lost only 15 planes, against 97 Fascist ships shot down.

Holding the newest, fastest ships for the defense of Britain, the RAF has been using Hurricanes as desert fighters and some of the older bombers for other missions. Outstanding were the performances of the American-made Martin 167s, originally ordered by the French and taken over by the RAF after the fall of Paris.

AIR FACTS

William S. Knudsen, director-general of defense production management, estimates the American aircraft industry will produce 33,000 new planes by the summer of 1942. A large percentage of these military ships will come from the factories of California.

Worthy of support by every air-minded citizen is the impending effort of the Department of Commerce to obtain an increased appropriation from Congress for airport construction. Right now, with military flying increasing daily, the airport situation is acute. And there is no better investment for the future than adequate airport facilities throughout the entire nation.

Value of airplane production in California during 1940 was more than $150,000,000.

United Air Lines has renewed its application for permission to establish a Sacramento-Los Angeles passenger and express air service with stops at Bakersfield, Visalia, Fresno, Merced, Modesto and Stockton.

AVERAGE CALIFORNIAN EATS 171 POUNDS OF MEAT IN YEAR

SAN FRANCISCO —(RNS)—Did you eat your weight in meat last year or more?

If you are an average California eater you did—171 pounds worth. And you topped the national average of 131 pounds by 40 pounds, too.

This was brought out this week by the state department of agriculture's division of animal industry. The number of cattle killed to supply the state reached an all-time high also, of 6,613,913, an excess of 391,000 over 1939.

Watching the locomotive for No. 21 take on water, I get a real kick out of it. You know, there's something romantic about that big iron structure. Somehow it means everything that is America—activity, restlessness, strength and determination. Yes sir, that engine is more human than a lot of humans I know.

Will Englehart was telling me not long back about an old Mennonite merchant named Jacobs who used to visit Truckee in the "good old days". It seems that each spring this wandering Jew would make up his pack at his store in Carson City and strike out on foot for Truckee via Reno. That way years and years ago, before the automobile, Highway 40 and most of Truckee's population appeared on the scene. "Jake" would go from door to door showing off his stock and would stay until his stock was exhausted and then he would hike back to Carson. That's a far cry from the swanky wearing apparel emporium operated by Catherine Rossarini here today. Modern and available the year 'round. I take off the dirty derby this week to Katie Rossarini, merchant princess and one of the best business men in the mountains.

One lad that doesn't get near the credit deserved is Roy "Dutch Boy" Waters, one of the resident firemen. He talks lazy and sometimes is lazy but when he has a job of work to do he does it promptly, efficiently and quietly—without fuss or feathers.

I didn't have time to stand with my back to the office stove this week 'cause I was so busy on the ski hill this week end but on my trip to the post office I saw Joe Mattos stool straddling at the Sportland chatting with Rufe Gregory... Mel Thornton driving his garage truck around in the rain all dolled up like a New England sea captain... Slim Ellert and Wally Newell unloading two Westinghouse refrigerators at Cabona's store... Cecil Edmunds dog Fritz sitting in front of the bank waiting for the boss... Pinky Tonini bearing down from the other direction in his tax grocer's smock... Bob Bowers looking like the world had been removed from his brawny shoulders after the weekend ski meet... Bob Seibold muttering "Never again" after the same meet.

Truckee owes a rising vote of thanks to "Red" Anderson, Carl Wheat, Walt Mandeville and the rest of the Tahoe folks for their unstinting cooperation in our meet last weekend. So, on behalf of myself and the rest of the boys here, "Thank ye, neighbors."

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, February 16, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be praised" (Psalms 70: 4). Other Bible citations will include: "No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is: of me, saith the Lord... Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live; and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David" (Isa. 54: 17; 55: 3).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with eKy to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is the law of Soul, even the law of the spirit of Truth, and Soul is never without its representative. Man's individual being can no more die or disappear in unconsciousness than can Soul, for both are immortal" (p.427).

SUGAR BOWL—John Potter's door mat slide—yes, you read correctly, they are door mats—worked out splendidly and vast crowds tested their skill at the official opening on last Wednesday evening. Yours truly merely gawked along with plenty of others. John plays Golf and when some more snow is needed he makes a storm (with Borax) and seems to have loads of fun.

Werner, our wide-as-he-is-high bartender, has gone and got bit by the ski bug. Werner, who weighs—well, perhaps we had better forget it—skis in an outfit suitable for the burlesque stage. A sweat shirt, which must have been bought from a forty-niner, a pair of pants from a snazzy business suit, with one leg turned up and the other down; a broad smile and plenty of courage acquired from the Dutch. We suspect that Werner has been turning covetous eyes upon the Silver Belt Trophy.

Things reach a desperate state when even the F.B.I. agent, staying here in the lodge, nearly has his skis stolen right from under his nose. The F.B.I. are famous for getting their man and though Arthur Hart failed to get his, in this particular instant, he at least got back his skis.

Susan Bacon is becoming a whizz on the boards this year and now has even some of the male members of the Sugar Bowl Ski team standing agast at the manner in which she seems to be able to swing it in deep powder.

The three Hill Brothers—Jerome, Courtland and Louis—have expressed a desire to present a langlauf trophy to commemorate the exploits of Snowshoe Thompson. The race will be twelve miles long and will be an open event. It is hoped to make it the great classic langlauf of the United States.

The much-discussed National Ski Patrol Trophy, being presented by three well-known doctors—Dr. Garland, Dr. Gerbode and Dr. Ruddy—all expert skiers, will be held sometime in March at a time and a place still to be decided. Squads of three men will start from a given point and proceed to another point to pick up a dummy on which will be pinned a first aid problem. The problem solved, the dummy is then brought on down a heavily controlled course to finish. Three judges will be standing on the run to give points for efficiency, a certain degree of speed and other forms of accuracy.

Like big brother, so little brother. Minute Donald Graham is following in his brother's footsteps and has just joined the Sugar Bowl Ski Club in order to race for the many junior club trophies and also the state championships. Boys, watch this little fellow, he really has something.

Next Meeting of Tahoe Gun Club Stated March 4

TAHOE CITY—The regular monthly meeting of the Lake Tahoe Gun Club will be held on March 4 at the home of James Worden at Ward Creek, according to current plans. A practice shoot is held at the winter range each Wednesday and club members also meet to reload their .38 caliber shells with the Buchanan loading tool purchased last year by the organization. Qualification medals will be awarded at the end of each year to the different classes, including expert (270), sharpshooter (240), and marksman (250).

Billy Bechdolt and Richard Carnell entered the Truckee meet last Saturday but as they were also competing in the high school meet at Tahoe on the same day, were unable to complete the two runs necessary for qualification in the slalom race. Walt Mandeville gave a good account of himself at the Truckee meet.

Snow activities will be enjoyed by San Francisco guests at the Edward Schneider, home east of Tahoe City during the February 22 week-end.

Valentine Party Featured At Meeks Bay Club Meet

MEEKS BAY—The Valentine Party proved to be a festive occasion at Monday night's meeting of the H&W Philanthropic Club. Mr. and Mrs. Phil Geier were the genial hosts.

Card tables were decorated in the Valentine motif and partners were selected through a system of matching broken hearts. On one of the tables a red and gold cupid's mail box was crammed full of gifts for all the members. Bobby Stacy, as Dan Cupid, distributed the favors.

Lee Garner came nearest to piercing the center of the large heart with an arrow and was awarded a gift.

Games of hearts were enjoyed with Mrs. Clara Luke and Roy Stark holding best scores and Mrs. Alma Brown and Ray Frazier, low scores.

There will be no meeting on next Monday when the old fashioned box supper has been programmed. Each lady attending is asked to bring a box supper for two. A smoked ham has been arranged as one of the awards. Entertainment, dancing and fun for all is assured.

CLUB PLAN TO SEND FIVE SKI TO MEET AT CISCO ON FEB. 16th

TAHOE CITY—The Lake Tahoe Ski Club held its regular weekly session at Tahoe Community Center on Friday night where plans were made for entering five of the club's ace skiers at the Auburn Ski Club's sanctioned meet on Feb. 16. Cards and refreshments finished out the evening with Miss Jean Wheat and Charles Cross, Jr., acting as hosts. Several out-of-town guests were present from Reno and other vicinities.

The Sacramento branch of the club will hold a small tournament at the Tahoe hill on Feb. 16 and members who do not attend the Cisco meet are requested to assist the Sacramento members in directing it. The party will arrive by chartered busses on Sunday morning.

Several ex-Tahoe skiers were entered in the intercollegiate tournament at Mt. Rose recently where Herbert Obexer of Homewood, attending the Stanford University, was among the winners. Charles and Oliver Henriksen of Lake Forest assisted in running the meet.

TEN MILLION VISIT FORESTS OF CALIFORNIA DURING 1940

More than ten million people visited the national forests of California during 1940, according to Regional Forester S. B. Shaw, in charge of the California region of the United States Forest Service.

Four and a half million of these visitors used the camp and public picnic grounds, winter sports areas, resorts and summer homes. The remaining five and a half million visitors motored through the forests to enjoy the scenery and an additional 25,000,000 people passed through en route to other destinations.

This number of recreation seekers represents an increase of 15 per cent over 1939, which indicates that the public is becoming increasingly aware of the outing attractions in California's national forests.

More Winter Sportsters

Greatest single increase occurred in the number of winter sports enthusiasts. During 1940, one-third more snow fans used the facilities of 50 winter sports areas than in 1939.

Visitors actually using the forest accommodations included 1,441,000 picnickers, 1,363,000 overnight campers, 652,000 resort guests, 601,000 winter sports participants, and 480,000 summer home owners and guests. Included in this list are 755,000 fishermen and 350,000 hunters.

Though the scenic attractions do have a major affect on the number of users in the various national forests, accessibility and proximity to centers of population are even more important. This is shown by the fact that the four national forests of southern California—the Angeles, San Bernardino, Cleveland and Los Padres Forests—which surround the Los Angeles metropolitan region, received 5,331,000, or more than half of all of California's national forest visitors. The central Sierra Nevada group of national forests, including the Inyo, Sequoia, Mono, Sierra, Stanislaus, Eldorado and Tahoe, had 4,099,000 visitors. The northern group of forests, the Plumas, Lassen, Shasta, Trinity, Modoc, Mendocino and Klamath National Forests, contains some of the finest scenery and recreational oppor-

Riley Stumped By State Fitch Purchase

State Controller Harry B. Riley is a wiser man today, thanks to the zoological knowledge of the state department of public health.

Riley received a claim from the public health department which read "...13 fitches, $58.50."

Scratching his head with a puzzled finger, the controller dictated this query:

"Your claim is returned for additional detail. Please explain what was purchased and what is a 'fitch'?"

In the return mail came a letter accompanied by a pen-and-ink drawing from the department:

"The fitch is a weasel-like animal that belongs to the polecat family. It is used for experimental research work in respiratory infections because of its particular suitability for this type of research."

Riley, with an awed look, paid the claim.

tunities of any in the California Region. But because of their relative inaccessibility and the distance from metropolitan areas, these forests had the smallest number of visitors—a total of 653,000.

Recreational Facilities

Recreational use of forests in the California Region far exceeds that of any other state or federal forest region in the United States. To meet this immense demand in California, the Forest Service maintains 1300 improved free public camp grounds and 50 winter sports areas.

The Forest Service also has established 18 large areas in the high country which are being retained in their wilderness condition for the benefit of that portion of the public that desires to get back to nature.

Senator Swan Center of School Board Controversy

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO —(U. P.)— It is doubtful if any state board or commission has engendered the strife and bickering of the state board of education. The board is split on every issue that arises.

Capitol newsmen have come to consider the board of education meetings as entertaining as any sideshow and considerably beneath the dignity of what one would expect from a group of adults concerned only with the welfare of the state's school children.

The controversial Silver Burdett textbook case has been in and out of the courts and legislature since 1937, offers a good case in point of how the board can get almost hopelessly involved in its own business. At a recent meeting, the board's majority voted to close the case and go ahead with the printing of the books.

A new "incident" promises to become almost as heated, involving as it does the question of Senator John H. Swan of Sacramento and his attempt to secure partial pay from the Sacramento school board while he is absent from his teaching job in attending the legislature.

Swan was rebuffed by the school board in his request for partial salary. So during the three weeks of the first half session in January, he commuted back and forth to the legislature in between classes. He refused to apply for an unsalaried leave of absence.

There are arguments on both sides on what disposition should be made of Swan's case but the real crisis arises over action taken by the state board of education threatening to hold up funds unless junior college grant leaves of absence to faculty members with pay to attend meetings of any legislative or official body.

Such an order not only affects Senator Swan but Dr. Herman Leader, another Sacramento junior college instructor, who can use the rule as a member of the board of education. He

Fights War Bill

General Robert E. Wood, Acting National Chairman of the America First Committee, who is demanding that the war bill be killed by Congress. The General, who was Chief Quartermaster at the construction of the Panama Canal and Acting Quartermaster General of the Army during the World War, asked every citizen to write or wire his two Senators and Congressman insisting that the bill be defeated and no compromise accepted.

presented the resolution at a recent meeting in Los Angeles and the vote was 6 to 1 for its passage, with Ford Chatters of Lindsay, the lone dissenter.

Students of state government are divided, with one faction claiming the board of education has no authority to interfere with a local school district. They cite the authority for the board to adopt rules and regulations for the government of the public school, and also the state law giving local school boards jurisdiction over granting leaves of absence of various kinds. They claim the state law does not force the local board to grant leaves of absence for study or travel or to attend legislative or other official meetings.

The attorney general will be asked to rule on the case and it may go into court before any settlement is reached. Sacramento school officials were inclined to ignore the order.

As for Senator Swan, he seems headed for some tough sledding before the legislature adjourns. His is one of those situations where printed writings come out of the past to confound a person. Long before he ever thought of running for the senate, Swan and a fellow faculty member rated the state senators on how they voted on important issues. After he joined the upper house, the members given poor ratings were not very cordial toward their new colleague.

Toward the close of the session, Swan made a public apology on the floor and had his remarks printed in the journal, to the effect that as he

'Paper Advertising Gets Credit For Acme Beer Trade

Crediting newspaper advertising with a vital part in building a tremendous sales leadership, President Karl F. Schuster of Acme Breweries, this week announced an increase in gallonage for 1940 of 6.87 per cent over 1939 sales in contrast to a loss of 2.72 per cent for the remainder of the California brewing industry.

Schuster stated that "Acme alone accounted for 22.03 per cent of all beer sold by California brewers during the past year, according to figures released by the state board of equalization. Acme Beer's total sales in the Western states during 1940 totaled 16,499,113, representing a gain of 1,060,636 gallons and a leadership of 5,237,449 gallons over the second best sellers."

This gain coincided with the announcement of an increased newspaper advertising budget for 1941, in some instances amounting to as much as 50 per cent.

Schuster continued, "Acme Breweries has yearly devoted a major portion of its advertising to newspapers because of the consistent results obtained. The year 'round use of newspaper advertising has been particularly valuable in causing the public to drink Acme Beer, on a more uniform basis throughout the year and lessening the traditional low ebb in sales during the winter months. The company has led in sales ever since Repeal and the 16,499,113 gallons sold during the past year sets an all time record among western brewers. Our 1939 output was the 19th largest in the nation and our 1940 record should advance our national standing."

"Logically, the year of 1941 will see the largest and most continuous newspaper advertising campaign ever conducted for Acme Beer which will be prepared by our advertising agency, Brisacher, Davis & Staff, which has directed our advertising since its inception."

MORE PROTECTION

Increased protection of California's forests from fires is anticipated with allocation of more revenue through legislation and direct appropriation.

Lettuce is California's most valuable vegetable crop, representing more than 20 per cent of the total.

came to know the members better, he wished to change his previous opinion.

There was plenty of corridor gossip that few of Swan's measures would get very far in the legislature, although he was one of the most prolific authors in the number of bills introduced. As one of Governor Olson's supporters, he will be in the minority. He displaced Roy Nielsen, one of the best-liked veteran legislators, after a hard-fought campaign, one of the most aggressive in the history of Sacramento. Swan is entering his legislative career with two strikes against him but has shown in many ways he is no quitter and may come out on top.

Covering the Legislature

by ALLEN G. THURMAN
(Assemblyman for the Sixth District)

Perhaps some of my readers wonder just how busy their legislators are when the state legislature is in session so we will give a little outline of your assemblyman's schedule as it will be when the legislature reconvenes on March 3.

First, we might mention that we are at present giving the 3850 bills the once over at our home. These bills were received last week from the state printer. We are checking the various bills such as mining, fish and game and other measures which we believe may be of interest to our district. In fact all of the bills have to be checked to see if any of these measures, which if passed, might be harmful to the rural and mountain areas.

All of the 3850 measures, except for a few which have already been passed, will be heard in their respective committees after the legislature reconvenes on Monday, March 3. Some 58 committees will hold hearings on the various measures and such bills as are approved by the committees will then go to the floor for a vote and possible passage.

To give my readers a little idea of how busy the legislators will actually be next month and until the session adjourns sometime in May or June, here is your assemblyman's committee schedule:

Monday—8:30 a. m. Public Charities and Corrections.

7:30 p. m. Ways and Means.

Tuesday—8:30 a. m. Commerce and Navigation and Mines and Mining.
10 a. m. Motor Vehicle Committee.
7:30 p. m. Ways and Means.

Wednesday—10 a. m. Motor Vehicle
Thursday—8:30 a. m. Natural Resources Committee. 7:30 p. m. Fish and Game Committee.

Friday—10 a. m. Fish and Game.

In addition to the above we are on two other committees, Soldiers and Sailors Affairs and Reapportionment, which also meet at the call of the chairman. The Reapportionment Committee will probably be as active a committee as any of the larger committees and we will no doubt spend several evenings in session.

Committee hearings, as above noted, are held in the morning and evening with the two houses—the senate and the assembly—in session each afternoon from 2 until 5 or 6. During the latter part of the session, when the majority of bills have been heard in committee, the senate and the assembly hold night sessions as well as meeting in the afternoon.

In addition to all this, your legislator receives a considerable amount of correspondence which must be answered and also from time to time meets with delegations from his home

The Man At the Keyhole

(California Feature Service Release)

Completing his seventh year as state liquor administrator, George M. Stout, California's straight-shooting czar of the beverages, now ranks as the oldest administrator (in point of service) in the United States and in a game where the political life expectancy is just a shade better than zero, that's a noteworthy achievement.

Dr. Giovanni, billed in entertainment circles as "the world's greatest pickpocket", gave a performance a day or two ago before the most critical audience of his career—the 5,000 inmates of San Quentin Prison. The boys not only gave him their rapt attention; they gave him a great big hand. Warden Duffy concluded that the doctor's performance was NOT to be considered a part of the prison's new vocational training program.

district or individuals who are interested in legislation which may be before a committee or before the house. And he must be at his desk in the assembly chamber when the house is in session if he expects to be on the job protect his district against harmful legislation or press the green button which gives an aye vote for legislation which, if passed, would prove of benefit to the district and the state as a whole.

So, all in all, your legislators have a busy schedule and if they are on the job, as most of them are, they will not have much time for play while the legislature is in session.

Highway White Line Is War Victim

Even that white stripe down the center of the highway that keeps the motorist on his side of the road may be affected by the war. T. E. Stanton of the state division of highways revealed that as he disclosed two of the important elements used in the white lacquer are imported—wood oil from China and gum from India.

Aware of the dangers of losing both in event of national emergency,

Stanton said experiments are being conducted to develop substitutes.

Each mile of traffic line requires 15 gallons of lacquer. Recently the state ordered 247,000 gallons for 20,000 miles of striping.

Army Camp

from the Western Pacific railroad, it has ample and adequate airplane landing facilities, something rare in a mountainous snow country such as is being sought by the army officials.

A small training unit has been located on Donner Summit where approximately 200 officers and men are quarters for snow training and instructions. The barracks there were erected and fitted out by the government and is working smoothly, according to reports.

It is proposed to make the Hobart Mills location along the lines of the Mt. Rainier camp recently established and now offering training to large numbers of soldiers.

While negotiations are still pending, it was reported that the officers are giving serious thought to the Hobart Mills site because of the many advantages it offers. There is always sufficient snow during winter months to provide training and at the same time the roads are open and the town is easily accessible from Truckee only seven miles south.

Truckee Booster On KYA For 15 Minute Program

Truckee, through its determination to again take a lead in winter sports, is receiving valuable publicity both from the press and radio. Last week Tom Ryan of Emigrant Trail Lodge near here spoke for 15 minutes over KYA, San Francisco, telling of advantages of winter sports available in this district. He was slated to answer stereotyped questions to be given by the announcer but once on his subject, he let the script alone and confined his discussion to the district and the advantages found here.

Visiting Here—
Mr. and Mrs. "Mac" McCarty of San Francisco are guests at the Vernon Pearson home here this week. McCarty is a Southern Pacific employee.

Charles Pierce returned from his trap lines yesterday with one of the best martins ever caught in this region. It was the 20th such rare animal he has caught this season.

N. F. (Tom) Dolley, local Railway Express Agent, entered a Reno hospital Monday for a minor operation. He is expected to make a speedy recovery.

From Colfax—

H. A. Wittich, Colfax Ford dealer, was in Truckee this week calling on prospects. Since John Thornton left for Reno this region has become part of the territory served by Wittich.

Returns Home—

Mrs. Paul Seely returned to her Modesto home on Tuesday following a visit of several days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zorich.

Baby Named—

Robert James is the name which has been given to the baby boy who recently arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Strickland, popular residents of the Donner summit.

Back from Hospital—

A. C. Pfandler, special officer for the Southern Pacific Company here, has returned home after spending 45 days in the S. P. hospital in San Francisco. He is much improved in health.

In Southern California—

Roy Feathers has written the Sierra Sun that he and Mrs. Feathers are located in San Diego where he is employed. He reports the city is active and that rents are sky high.

Rules for Snow Sports Safety Told by Bureau

Here are some safety suggestions for winter sports enthusiasts:

1. Be sure your equipment, whatever it may be, is in good condition. Defective equipment causes many accidents.
2. If you have not been exercising regularly, take it easy. Change wet clothing promptly. Remember that you can get a vicious case of sunburn even in winter.
3. Avoid attempting feats beyond your skill.
4. Don't skate on thin ice. If there is a warning sign, observe it.

5. If a member of your party is injured, make sure that he is kept warm. By snugly covering him with whatever articles of clothing are available, you will reduce the danger of shock or pneumonia.
6. Do not attempt to move a seriously injured person or set a broken bone. Send for a physician.
